The life looks like a place where all conditions will happen sooner or 10 billion years later. It looks, as ancients made their gods from their images, we tend to make our gods from our machines.

God is a computer, simulating the universe.